

Director of the National E-Health Program at the Ministry of Public Health with more than 20 years of experience in the field of Health Information System and Lecturer at the Faculty of Public Health in the Lebanese University.

Holding a MBA degree in the Health Management field from Paris I Panthéon Sorbonne.

Leading E-Government and Digital Transformation projects to create new business models and culture to promote transparency and ensure modernization of the administration.

Expert in strategic planning, business process re-engineering and change management with focus on Government, Pharmaceuticals and digital media and communication platforms.

Member of several committees including Digital transformation Strategy, Good Governance, Unified E-Prescription, Drugs Barcode and Fighting Corruption.

Received many Excellence Awards including Best Government E-Services and Golden Smart Applications.