

Mohamad Alameddine is an associate professor at the department of Health Management and Policy, Faculty of Health Sciences, American University of Beirut. Mohamad joined AUB in 2008 coming from the University of Toronto where he worked as the Director of International Development at the Faculty of Medicine.

Mohamad holds a PhD in Health Management and Policy from the University of Toronto and a Masters of Public health from AUB. His main research interests include studying health human resources labor force dynamics, recruitment and retention practices, resilience of health systems and the quality of work environments. Mohamad has multiple publications in the field and is regarded as a regional expert on health human resources planning and managements and quality of work environments.